

What do you think? Why?

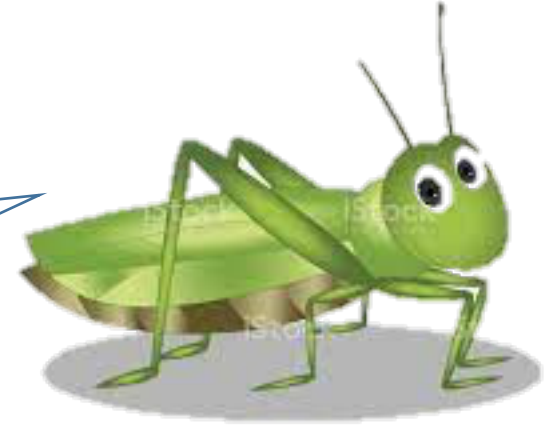

Would an elephant make a good pet?

Animals including humans fall into two main categories.

I have a skeleton. I am a vertebrate.
My skeleton is on the inside of my body. I have an endoskeleton.

I have a skeleton. I am an invertebrate.
My skeleton is on the outside of my body. I have an exoskeleton.

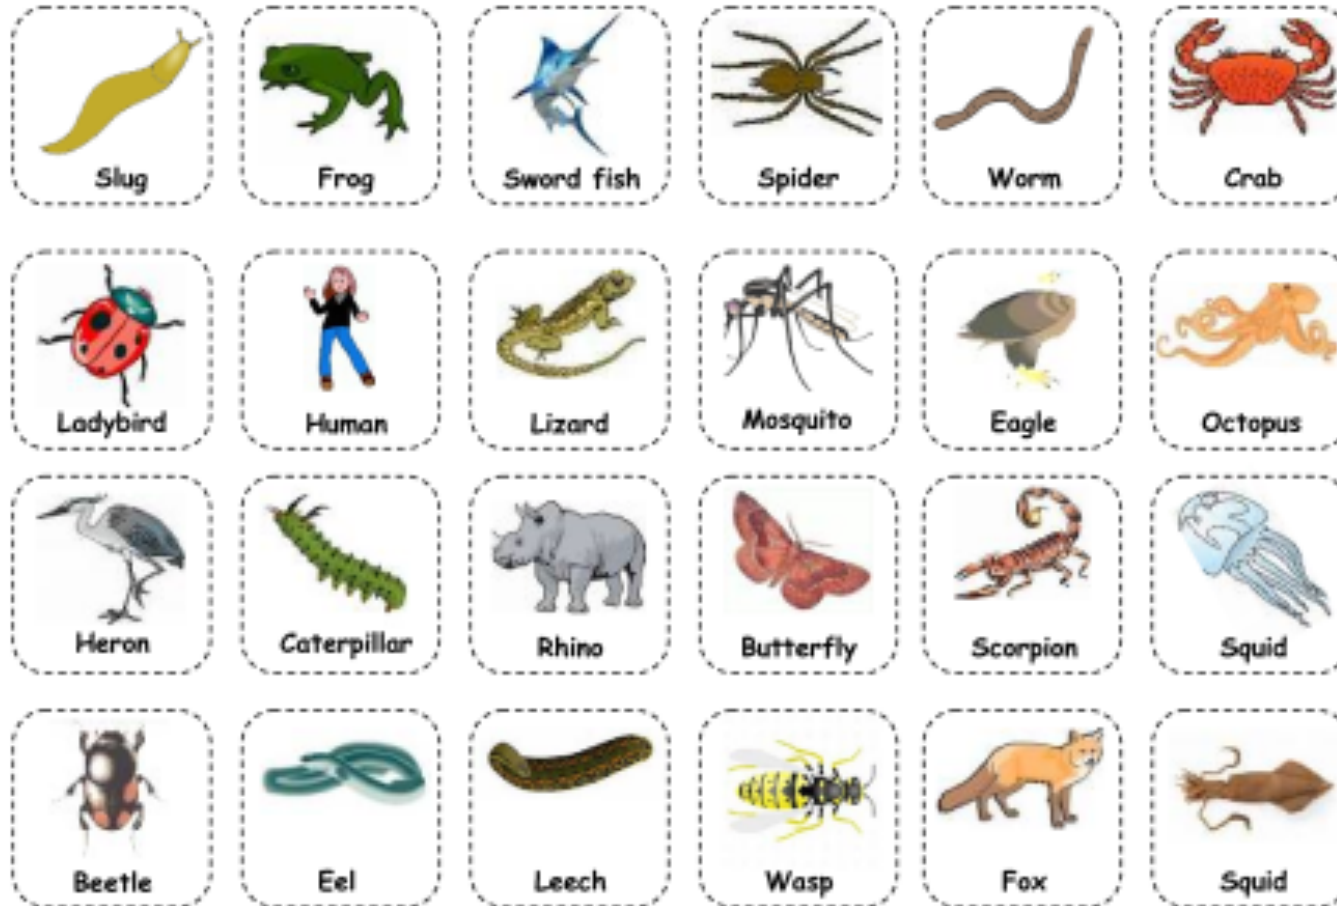

Can you think of any invertebrates that don't have a skeleton?

Have a go at classifying these animals.
